Dr Kenneth Lew
(BDS-Singapore, MDS Orthodontics-Adelaide, FDSRCS-Edinburgh, FAMS-Singapore)

Educated in Singapore under a Public Service Commission Scholarship. Dr Lew graduated with a Bachelor of Dental Surgery in 1982 with numerous University Medals. He then studied orthodontics in University of Adelaide with the late Professor Milton Sim, under a NUS scholarship from 1984 to 1987. After graduating with a MDS Orthodontics in 1987, he served as an academic in NUS Dental Faculty and a Clinician in NUH in 1990, he received the fellowship of Dental Surgery from the Royal College of Surgeons of Edinburgh, without any examination.

Dr Lew has been running orthodontic courses for GPs, Pedodontists and Orthodontists in Hong Kong in (Singapore) and served previously as the President of AOS (Singapore). His courses have been very well received and it is indeed a privilege that we know in an easily comprehensible manner. Dr Lew was a founder member of Association of Orthodontics specialists and GPs in Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Hong Kong, and Australia. Hundreds of dentists have benefited from his approachable mentorship cum extensive clinical experience in treating both Asians & Caucasian orthodontic patient for the last 25 years (many of which are celebrities) and his unique ability to impart knowledge in an easily comprehensible manner. Dr Lew was a founder member of Association of Orthodontics (Singapore) and served previously as the President of AOS (Singapore).

Dr Kenneth Lew has been running orthodontic courses for GPs, Pedodontists and Orthodontists in Hong Kong in 2003 and in Indonesia in 2005. He has authored over 60 articles published in international refereed journals as well as being invited to speak at more than 300 conferences worldwide.

Dr Lew is cited in “International Who’s Who of Professionals” as a “dental expert in orthodontics and esthetic dentistry who is the secret behind the smile of many Asian celluloid personalities”. Prior to his departure to full-time private practice in 1994, Dr Lew was the founder and Co-Director of the MDS Orthodontics program in NUS. Being on the Asian lecture circuit since 1994, Dr Lew has conducted orthodontic courses for specialists and GPs in Indonesia, Malaysia, Philippines, Thailand, Hong Kong, and Australia.
